

SUPREME COUNCIL ADOPTS WILSON'S RUSSIAN PLAN

Proposes to Give People All Aid Possible

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—Led by President Wilson, the supreme council of the great powers today moved to unite the factions of distracted Russia and bring them into the peace congress.

They unanimously adopted a proposition brought forward by President Wilson, asking all factions of Russia including the Bolsheviks to meet the allied and associated governments at Princess Island in the Marmora Sea on Feb. 15, the contending factions meantime declaring a truce and suspending all military operations. The joint commission of the allied governments to the Russian factions accept the proposal which was communicated to them by a wireless tonight. The Russian commission will proceed to the meeting place probably on a warship by way of the Black Sea and the Bosphorus. General John J. Pershing, the American commander-in-chief has been called to Paris and it is expected he will be the military member of the American representation on the joint commission.

Important Conclusions Reached

Aside from the importance of the conclusion reached it was especially notable as being the first time that the voice of the United States had taken the direction in the concert of European powers on the most serious European question now presented. There was added significance in the fact that an American president in person had taken leadership in the council made up chiefly of European statesmen and had pointed a way which they had unanimously adopted. The final result came after three days of continuous discussion of Russia which did not crystallize until the final hour when President Wilson presented in writing the plan he had elaborated. There was little opposition and this was based mainly on doubts as to whether the proposition would be accepted.

February 15 was designated as the time for the meeting so as to give time for representations to come from the remotest sections of Siberia and other distant localities. Besides the decisive action taken with regard to Russia the council today also provided a joint commission of two each from the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy to proceed immediately to Danzig and Warsaw for consideration of the entire military and political situation in Poland. A plenary meeting of the full conference was announced for next Saturday when the plans of President Wilson and David Lloyd George, the British prime minister dealing with a league of nations will be the first order of business.

Today's action on Russia and Poland however, goes into effect without presentation to the full conference and is taken as the action of the great powers.

The Official Communique.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—The full text of the official communication issued by the supreme council this afternoon reads:

"The president of the United States, the prime ministers and the foreign ministers of the allied and associated powers and the Japanese representatives met at the Quai d'Orsay between 3 and 5:30 this afternoon and approved the proposal of President Wilson which reads as follows:

"The single object of the representatives of the associated powers has been in mind in their discussions of the course they should pursue with regard to Russia has been to help the Russian people, not to hinder them or to interfere in any manner with their right to settle their own affairs in their own way. They regard the Russian people as their friends not their enemies and are willing to help them in any way they are able to be helped. It is clear to them that the troubles and distress of the Russian people will steadily increase, hunger and privation of every kind become more impossible to relieve unless order is restored and normal conditions of labor, trade and transportation once more created and they are seeking some way in which to assist the Russian people to establish order.

"They recognize the absolute right of the Russian people to direct their own affairs without dictation or direction of any kind from outside. They do not wish to exploit or make use of Russia in any way. They recognize the revolution without reservation and will in no way and in no circumstance aid or give utterance to any attempt at a counter-revolution.

"It is not their wish or purpose to favor or assist any one of the organized groups now contending for the leadership and guidance of Russia as against the others. Their sole and sincere purpose is to do what they can to bring Rus-

U. S. Specialists Study Important Peace Questions

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—The American Peace Commission is depending upon its specialists in international law for the preparation of the American view of important questions raised in the agenda adopted by the peace conference Saturday. These are first, responsibility for the war; second, the framing of a policy for international cooperation in legislation directed toward the interests of labor.

Wide differences exist regarding the first question particularly as to the responsibility of individuals rather than of governments, for the war and likewise violation of the rules of the war by the central powers.

It is believed to be by no means certain that the American delegates are willing to accept the views of the French legal authorities quoted by General Clemenceau respecting the personal responsibility of the former German emperor and his generals in the absence of precedents, and until there is a clearer understanding of the limitations within such a doctrine can be exercised.

There is a possibility that recommendations upon labor will be withheld until opportunity is afforded to study the developments of the Berne labor congress.

TRIED TO OBTAIN $100,000 COMMISSION

(By The Associated Press.)—William S. Bennett, a former congressman, representing E. S. Hines, a Chicago lumber dealer, charged before the senate buildings and grounds committee today that Milton J. Trainor, connected with the real estate department of the war department, had attempted to obtain a commission of $100,000 from the Shanks Construction company of Chicago in connection with a contract for the construction of the Chicago Speedway Hospital. Mr. Bennett told the committee he had been informed that early in the negotiations looking to the construction of the hospital Trainor went to see George H. Shanks, of the Shanks company and told him that unless he received a commission of $100,000 no contract on the bids submitted by the Shanks company would be awarded. Shanks, the witness asserted, refused to consider the matter and consulted Mr. Hines who at first declined to report it to Secretary Baker, but later did so. The secretary, the witness said, recommended an investigation but, he added, apparently nothing had come of it.

Chairman Hardwick of the senate committee which is investigating army and public health hospital construction, said the committee would make a complete investigation of Mr. Bennett's charge.

POSITION OF CHINA DISCUSSED

(By The Associated Press.)—PARIS, Jan. 22.—Discussing the position of China with regard to the Peace Conference, O. T. Wang, a member of the Chinese delegation who has been prominent in South China government said to the Associated Press correspondents today that the two portions of China were thoroughly united on the question of foreign policy.

The delegation now in Paris, he declared, represents China as an allied nation independent of other nations, seeking the full restoration of its sovereignty and asking the conference to free its treaties and agreements which prevent its development.

"China's greatest handicap," said Mr. Wang, "is the present system of making loans and letting railway concessions. Under the banner of the 'influence' system forced upon China by outside powers it is impossible for China to get money for railway or other extensive developments. There are abundant opportunities for nations to make investments in China if the peace conference will remove the barrier in the form of foreign agreements."

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE IN ENGLAND

(By The Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Upon notification from British authorities that foot and mouth disease has broken out in England the bureau of animal industry has cancelled all permits for importation of cattle, sheep, and swine from that country and is taking special precautions for the inspection and quarantine of such animals now en route to the United States. British veterinarians are said to have the outbreak under control.

DECISION AFFIRMED.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—The United States circuit court of appeals today handed down an opinion affirming the decision of the district court in which James Dorsey of Gilbert, Ill., was found guilty of using the mails to defraud and sentenced to eight years imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth.

Dorsey is a wealthy dealer in dairy cattle and it was charged that he misrepresented the facts when he offered cows for sale which he said were free from disease. He was found guilty by a jury in Judge Landis' court, January 31, 1918.

ARMOUR FAVORS CENTRAL CONTROL OF ALL SHIPMENTS

Renews Opposition to U. S. Taking Over Packing Industry

(By The Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Two congressional committees were occupied again today in hearing witnesses who were questioned concerning evidence brought out at the federal trade commission's meat packing inquiry. The committees have under consideration legislation providing for government control of the meat packing industry.

J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co., continued his testimony before the house interstate commerce committee. He said his salary was $25,000 a year and had never been any higher; asserted that Armour & Co. would welcome means to enable livestock producers to market their animals at a price based on the cost of production; suggested a central control of livestock shipments as a possible means of obtaining this and renewed opposition to a pending bill to empower the government to take over control of adjuncts of the packing industry.

Before the senate agriculture committee Thomas F. Logan was questioned again as to his activities in Washington for Swift & Co., the Standard Oil company of Indiana and other corporations and his friendship with Joseph P. Tumulty, Edward N. Hurley and other government officials.

Views on U. S. Control Given

Congressmen who questioned Mr. Armour and other special attention to getting his views on the probable effects of the pending bill. Replying to Representative Snook of Ohio, Mr. Armour said he thought the bill probably meant ultimate government ownership of the packing industry and he agreed with the committee's opinion of Ohio that if the bill were constitutional, there was no limit as to how far the government might reach out and invade the realm hitherto occupied by private industry.

Representative Dillon of South Dakota, tried to find out how the buyer determine prices. He drew from Mr. Armour admission that Armour & Co. insisted on having an equal division of the cattle offered at markets where there were only two packing plants, such as Fort Worth and Denver, but the witnesses said there was no conclusion that the purchases were made on a basis of plant capacity.

The steadiness of purchase percentages is not strange, because a variance of even 100 animals might make a difference of only one per cent, he told Mr. Dillon. Mr. Armour defended the practice of "wiring on" whereby a buyer who failed to obtain cattle which the grower insisted on shipping to another market for a better price notifies the company's representative at the new market of the price he offered. Foreign business of Armour & Co. was said to be entirely divorced from the parent corporation because it was desirable to have the companies operate under the laws of country where they were located.

Profits in South America

The South American plants made $10,000,000 last year, Mr. Armour said. Virtually all of the South American meat has been shipped to Europe and Mr. Armour thought there would be little of it sent to this country in the near future especially if a free market is opened in Germany which the company hopes will result from the establishment of a new government there.

Charges of juggling figures were resented by the witness. He said that reports of transferring prices to make one department of the business show better than another was "child's talk."

Mr. Armour criticized the federal trade commission for alleged unfairness in conducting its inquiry. Discussing in detail recommendations by the commission he declared:

"I think the suggestion made a lot of foolish suggestions that hardship to the packer is bound sooner or later to manifest itself in hardship to the consumer or producer."

Levy Mayer, counsel for Mr. Armour, will tell the committee tomorrow why he thinks the pending bill is unconstitutional and will be followed on the stand by Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co.

Draft of British Views on Peace League Presented

(By The Associated Press.)—PARIS, Jan. 22.—(British Wireless Service.)—Lord Robert Cecil who has in charge Great Britain the task of aiding in the formation of a league of nations said today that he had submitted to the peace conference the draft statement of the British views on the subject, which in its broad line did not differ much from the ideas expressed by Dr. J. Smuts, South African leader.

"It is certain," said Lord Robert, "that public opinion of the world is in favor of a decision that will not only make a world peace real but ordain that international recognition of a league of nations is an essential part of modern civilization. It is absolutely impossible to proceed on the old arrangement everybody pulling for his own side without any regard for the others."

He did not mean that the international body shall have anything to do with internal affairs of the countries concerned. The best way to solve all problems of this kind would be not of a parliament with majorities and minorities, but the creation of some commission comprising representatives of the great nations, not diplomats but influential members of each government, sitting at regular intervals.

"This commission which would give the greatest publicity to its work, would more likely on all problems reach by compromise or mutual agreement a decision which would prevent a clash in many instances. No treaties would be passed unless in conformity with the rules of the league."

"Peace would thus be rendered possible and mutual sacrifices were made an agreement would be reached without having to throw all the forces of the United Nations against one or two which wished to break the commonly arrived law."

"The question of the admission of Germany to the league will be discussed at length but it is probable that no settlement will be reached until after the signing of peace—a peace which probably would not have been broken in 1914 if a league of nations had existed and a conference had taken place."

CABLE CENSORSHIP HURTS U. S. COMMERCE

(By The Associated Press.)—POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Continued censorship of the cables "is working incalculable harm to American commerce," Dr. E. E. Pratt of the committee of communications of the council on foreign relations of New York said today in an address before the Poughkeepsie chamber of commerce. Dr. Pratt who was formerly chief of bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce declared it was a "fair question" to put to the highest government officials, "as to exactly why the commerce of the United States should be burdened and restricted by a discriminating censorship that assists our competitors and handicaps our own trade."

Dr. Pratt said Secretaries Daniels and Redfield, Postmaster General Burleson, war trade board officers and other high officials had recently assured Mark O. Brewster, president of the council of foreign relations that they would do everything in their power to lift the censorship, but that nothing had yet been done.

AMERICAN MONEY NEEDED ABROAD

(By The Associated Press.)—NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The need of American banks to handle American investments abroad especially in the war devastated countries was urged by Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state in an address here today.

Mr. Long warned that international trade would not continue to flow thru before-the-war channels because of political changes and altered commercial sympathies and said it would be the task of the state department thru its consuls throughout the world, to aid American exporters and importers in the reorganization of trade. Chao Ssin Chu, Chinese consul general at San Francisco, declared American business men had not been paying proper and adequate attention to Far East trade opportunities.

"Now the German interests have practically died out," he said. "Now is the very chance for America to enlarge her foreign trade for the replacement especially of the German trade there and such replacement, I can assure you, will become permanent and most acceptable."

NEW ZEALAND CASUALTIES.

Wellington, N. Z., Jan. 22.—via Montreal—New Zealand's casualties in the war totaled 57,932, of whom only 45 were taken prisoner by the enemy. The number killed was 16,500.

Reign of Terror is Spreading Over Ireland

(By The Associated Press.)—DUBLIN, Jan. 22.—The Sinn Fein parliament provided only a one-day sensation. Its members held a brief meeting at the mansion house this afternoon but behind closed doors. Afterwards Count Plunkett told reporters that a statement of the business transacted would be furnished to the press later, thus following the precedent of the Paris conference. A group of a hundred young men gathered outside during the secret session but no excitement of any kind was shown. The public was far more interested today in the murder of two policemen in Tipperary yesterday at the time the parliament was meeting. This is taken to signify the beginning of a new period of terrorism which various politicians expect will include either assassinations and attempts to destroy government buildings and public works. The extremists are exceedingly anxious to get explosives. Two policemen were guarding a cart load of gelignite which was being taken to a mine when they were surrounded by masked men. The policemen were shot dead and the explosives carried off. The immediate sequel was a proclamation placing Tipperary under the Crimes Act, which means a regime much like the occupied German cities are undergoing.

All meetings are prohibited and nobody can pass in or out of the district without a permit. None of the residents may be outdoors after seven o'clock in the evening without a permit. No letters may pass in or out without censorship. Enough troops were quickly sent into the district to enforce these regulations. The Clare district was recently proclaimed under the crimes act and the measure was enforced with apparent success.

THE FIGHT IN COLD AIR.

Yesterday flying in a temperature of sixteen degrees below zero, one American airplane bombed the enemy and scored direct hits on important Bolshevik positions.

The fighting is going on in cold, clear weather but the temperature is so low that it is difficult for the infantrymen to remain in the open any length of time.

The Bolsheviks also are shelling the American positions on the Volofida railway. With the exception of a few days early in January, when the allied forces attempted to improve their positions southward on the Kadish railroad, and on the Omega sector the offensive on the Archangel front for several months has been in the hands of the Bolsheviks. They are hoisting their flag in the vicinity of Kadish they will drive the "allies into the White Sea in March."

Along the Murmansk railway the Russian and allied troops yesterday raided the village of Rugozerka fifty miles southeast of Soroka, where they either killed or captured all the Bolshevik garrison. They took 116 rifles and other equipment and numerous documents. The allied forces did not suffer a single casualty.

(By The Associated Press.)—PARIS, Jan. 22.—All American officers and soldiers will get a chance to see Paris on a leave of absence of three days before sailing homeward, according to general order No. 14, issued from general headquarters on Jan. 18. American soldiers in Italian, French, Belgian and British expedition have an opportunity to visit their former homes or relatives before returning to the United States.

Black marks against privates, will not prevent them, however, from obtaining leaves of absence to visit relatives in France, Belgium, Great Britain and Italy.

SEVEN OF ESCAPED PRISONERS RETURNED

(By The Associated Press.)—ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 22.—Seven of the twenty-two convicts who escaped from the Rock Island county jail Tuesday night have been captured and are again behind prison bars.

Of the seven already returned to custody one was persuaded by his mother to surrender, another by his sister and a third was captured at Corona, Ill., by Sheriff Miller after an exciting chase. The three taken today were Ray Ludy, automobile thief, Arthur Miller, alias James Ellsworth, robber and murderer and Alfredo DeLeon, holdup man from Mexico City, Mexico.

The latter was taken after Sheriff Miller had pursued him fifteen miles to the little town of Corona and fired several volleys from a shotgun at the fleeing convict. Tonight the jail physician is busy extracting buckshot from DeLeon's arms and legs.

AMERICANS IN RUSSIA ATTACKED BY BOLSHEVIKIS

Enemy Mobilized for a General Offensive

ARCHANGEL, Tuesday, Jan. 21.—(By The A. P.)—Bolshevik troops are heavily shelling the farthest south positions of the American and Russian armies at Ust Padenga, on the Wag river, thirty miles south of Shenskursk. They also are showing considerable activity west of Shenskursk on the Tania river. The enemy has mobilized the peasants in the vicinity of Vlsk and apparently is prepared for a general offensive in the Shenskursk sector, Sunday the enemy, under cover of heavy bombardment attacked with infantry the American and Russian positions at Ust Padenga. The allied outpost withdrew, but the Bolshevik attack on the main positions was repulsed with heavy losses.

There has been no infantry action since, but there has been a constant rain of shells on the village. The American artillery is vigorously replying.

Leaders Hope to Pass Famine Relief Bill Today

(By The Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Criticism of President Wilson and Food Administrator Hoover was continued today in the senate during the debate on the Administration bill appropriating $100,000,000 for food relief in Europe and the senate again failed to reach a vote.

Disposition of amendments was begun however, and administration leaders hope to pass the measure tomorrow.

Without a record vote the senate rejected the amendment by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, Republican, providing for distribution of food by a commission to be named by the president subject to confirmation by the senate and to be responsible to congress.

The amendment by Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat authorizing a bonus of sixty days pay to privates and non-commissioned officers discharged from the army met a similar fate.

Senator Ashurst vainly sought a record vote and said he would again call up the amendment for final disposition.

Senator Townsend of Michigan, Republican, led the attack on the president, declaring that his absence was causing neglect of interests at home and delaying emergency legislation. He also asserted that the president was the only American peace commissioner and he was not keeping the country informed as to his plans.

Lenoot Supports Bill

While supporting the bill Senator Lenoot of Michigan, Republican said he was sorry that the president had not remained in Paris when he went there. He deplored "ostentatious display" and emphasizing of class distinction and said the pomp and ceremony attending the peace conference "is doing just as much to feed Bolshevism as food can do to prevent it."

Senator Borah of Idaho, Republican, in opposing the bill renewed charges that the appropriation was designed primarily for the benefit of the big meat packing concerns in this country. He said the plan for relief had been made in Chicago and approved before Mr. Hoover went to Europe and that it was proposed to absorb surplus stocks of supplies the packing firms now have on hand in Europe.

Support of the bill was given by Senator McLean of Connecticut, Republican who said the feeding of the people of Europe to prevent industrial trouble was a good business proposition. He also approved the measure on humanitarian grounds.

SWISS IDEAS ARE MADE PUBLIC

(By The Associated Press.)—PARIS, Jan. 22.—The views and desires of the Swiss federal council, which President Gustav Ador is now in Paris to present to President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Lloyd George and other allied statesmen include particularly a request for international compacts giving Switzerland access to the sea by way of the Rhine, the Rhone and the Po. Switzerland also desires to obtain the right to traffic over important railroads to the sea and to the eastern countries of Europe. The Swiss government not only approves the project for a league of nations but desires and expects admission to the peace negotiations as far as the deliberations on this project are concerned. The Swiss government, it is declared, believes the league should go beyond the procedure of inquiry to prevent war and that its regulations should include the absolute prohibition of a resort to war; that it should provide for the compulsory repudiation of disputes to special arbitration tribunals or to a permanent international court.

REFUSED PASSPORTS.

New York, a.n. 22.—Passports have been refused the three Americans selected to attend the international Socialist conference in Lausanne, Switzerland, next month, according to a telegram received here tonight at the Rand School of Social Science from representative Meyer London. ## PLANS LAID FOR MAINTAINING BIG MERCHANT MARINE

Operators, Builders and Employees Represented

(By The Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The foundation for a permanent organization having for its purpose the maintenance and expansion of the American merchant marine was laid here today at a conference of Representatives of ship operators, builders and employees. The meeting was called by Senator Randall of Louisiana, who presented subjects for discussion and who as temporary chairman named committees on permanent organization and resolutions which are to report at the final sessions tomorrow. Commissioner Charles Page, of the shipping board, said that body would welcome the advice and assistance of the conference and other speakers, including some of the foremost ship builders of the country either by direct payment or by application of different rates. They also demanded relinquishment of government wage control in ship yards as a first step toward meeting world and particularly English competition.

Cost Shows Big Increase

J. W. Powell, vice president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation; Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company; and Charles E. Evans, president of the Baltimore Dry Dock & Shipbuilding company, who spoke for the builders, emphasized the cost of building American ships as an insuperable barrier against any attempt to establish a merchant navy without, as Mr. Ferguson said, the nation paying for it.

Mr. Powell said that as nearly as can be calculated the difference between the cost of a ship built in Great Britain and that of a vessel built in this country has increased from about $25 or $35 a ton before the war to $100 today.

A great part of that cost "the speaker declared" is due to the "great increase in the cost of labor in this country. Our wages, set for use by the government have gone up 150 per cent since August, 1917. There is no possible way efficiency of operation by American shipbuilders can bring that cost down. Should changes in labor conditions in England have increased from 23 to 45 cents per hour on the Clyde, and $1 an hour here."

Mr. Ferguson said he favored a system of allowing American ships rate differentials in American trade rather than subsidies "since in that way you pay a ship just sailing the flag around. Laws and treaties should be made confining trade between the United States and other countries to ships from either that country or the United States," he said.

"I take it that it is the real sense of this meeting," he said, "that since the war a merchant marine built not only a necessity from a commercial standpoint but an absolute necessity from a standpoint of maintenance of national integrity and national dignity."

Mr. Evans endorsing, he said, Mr. Ferguson's presentation, declared for the immediate leasing of government owned ships to private operating companies which should be given options to buy them during a period of five years and named a basis of $75 per ton as the value on which the leases should be fixed.

"British subjects are buying British ships today on a basis of $95 to $115 per ton," Mr. Evans said. "At present scale of wages in the United States it actually costs $185 per ton to build cargo ships. Now it is proposed to write off $1,000,000,000 of the cost of government ships, but it will require a great deal more writing off than that if they are to be sold."

OLD JACKSONVILLE

EARLY BANKS

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

It is difficult for present day people to realize the need of a reliable and convenient means of financial exchange in the early days of this and other Far West states.

This difficulty began as soon as settlements of any number of residents were made.

It was very interesting to hear older people tell of their experiences as individuals or dealers in any line before we had reasonably enough gold or silver, or safe paper money, to do business with.

Some old letters quoted in this series, in the Journal of Jan. 28, 1915, show the scarcity of money here in "the forties". This was individual inability as well as general. While there were few rich people—or what were then called rich—here in all Illinois, they even had trouble in arranging for money in their private affairs, or in their business.

There were only two banks of issue, those which put out their paper notes, in Illinois up to about 1842. One was at Shawneetown over in the farthest southeastern part of the state, and on the Ohio river, and a State Bank, at Springfield. They had some "Branch Banks" in two to four other towns in the state. That at Shawneetown was the best conducted, and safest, for some years, but both of the "parent banks" came to grief, about 1842.

The State Bank and the Internal Improvement system of the state—instituted about 1836, had Illinois pretty much flat of its back, financially about 1842, and some years later. But the bank—partly thru Gov. Ford's wise and able management of affairs, came out better pretty soon. The improvement system buried the state—then poor—under a debt of something like $13,000,000.

This was not repudiated, as was done by some states, but it was not paid about 1852 that the whole debt, with its heavy interest, was wiped out.

It may here be stated that the debt was contracted under the management of the Democratic party, and finally cleared away during Republican control.

It is due to our Gov. Duncan, and to Gov. Ford, both Democrats, to say that Duncan was opposed to the improvement system, and that Ford was the ablest manager the state had in his time, in the Democratic party's handling of state finances.

In those days it was very hard to get funds from one part of the country to another. There was scarcely any of what is called "bank exchange". Merchants sent produce, in which they were largely paid by their customers, to St. Louis, which was then the commercial and financial center of this part of the "Far West."

Sometimes they went East for goods, carrying what money they could get hold of; at other times they sent money by friends, as they did letters.

An incident.

A man rode up to the store of Joshua Moore, in Naples, one day, and called for Mr. Moore, who came out. The man on horseback said:

"My name is Jacob Strawn. I understand that you have some money you want to send to St. Louis. I would like to borrow it."

Mr. Moore had never seen Mr. Strawn before, but he had heard of him, and that Mr. Strawn's word was as good as his bond.

So he let him have the money—which was no very large amount. Mr. Strawn bought cattle with the funds and drove them to St. Louis, where he sold them, and deposited Mr. Moore's money to the latter's credit with some merchant Mr. Moore owed for goods.

This was one of Mr. Strawn's ways of doing business, owing to the peculiar financial conditions of the times. It was a service to the community, in Illinois, as well as a convenience to Mr. Strawn. It may be added that the parties to this deal were good friends "ever after."

here, barter was one of the means whereby people got rid of some things, and acquired others. It seems very amusing to think that beeswax was one of the current things in trade. There were trees in which the little golden birds had hoarded their sweetness. People would find the trees and in getting the honey would secure a means of sweetening food, and then would save up the wax and sell it to neighbors or merchants, and it would reach the markets of trade in that way. What so much was used for is more than this "young settler" can tell.

There were people who made a habit of finding "bee-trees" and getting their valuable stores.

The Branch Bank Here.

Jacksonville was always ahead in early enterprises, so there was a Branch Bank here. This was established about 1825 to 1833, and had its office in the good brick building later owned by William Hamilton, at the southeast corner of the Public Square. It was last occupied by Hoffman Brothers, who built the present handsome building on that site, which is now occupied by F. J. Waddell & Co.

Two Great Excitements.

That Branch Bank produced two great public excitements. One probably when the "parent" establishment went to smash and took our bank with it.

The other cyclone in the public mind was when Jacksonville woke up one morning, to find the bank had been robbed. The teller, a fine young man from the East, which had married "an estimable young woman" here, was accused of the act, which he is said to have confessed. He was put in the jail and, at the same time a man was confined there who had been convicted of a murder, at Exeter. For some reason he obtained a change of venue to this county, where he was tried and sentenced to be hung.

Not long after, the jail was broken into, and the man accused of the murder was escaped, it being supposed the delivery was made for his benefit. As stated, he got away, and nothing was ever heard of him again. The bank man, and perhaps one or two other occupants of the county jail, also took "French leave."

The former teller is said to have finally returned to his eastern home, and to have become a good citizen, and successful business man, there.

The bank robbery and escape of that robber and the Exeter man made one of the most thrilling episodes of the early days, and the old settlers never got tired of telling about it.

This conviction of the man accused of the murder was the only time anybody has been sentenced to death by the courts of Morgan county.

Mayor E. E. Jones of Bloomington welcomed the dairymen to the city and read to them a statement from Governor Frank O. Lowden in which the governor emphasizes the necessity to furnish food to the millions of starving people in the war devastated countries of Europe from the products of the dairy cow. Governor Lowden eulogizes the dairy cow as the foster mother of the world, saying:

A Wonderful Laboratory. "The cow is the most wonderful laboratory. She takes the goodness of the pasture, and the toughness of the field, and converts them into the most perfect food for man. In that food there is a mysterious something which scientists have found essential to the highest health of the race, and which can be found nowhere else. Men have sought for centuries the fabled Fountain of Youth. The nearest approach to this fountain which has yet been discovered is the udder of the cow. Without her milk, children languish, the vigor of the adult declines, and the vitality of the race runs low."

Governor Lowden's statement was received with great enthusiasm by the members of the convention, and was emphatically endorsed by Dean Davenport of the University of Illinois and other prominent speakers who addressed the meeting.

An organization has been perfected in seventy counties of the state to carry on the work of the campaign which will undoubtedly result in a full appreciation of the importance of the dairy cow and dairy products in meeting the food problems of the world.

Dean Davenport of the University of Illinois who has just returned from a meeting of the National Agricultural and Experimental Colleges of the United States at Baltimore where reports were given by the commission which was sent to England, France and Italy to make an investigation of food conditions in those countries, stated that too great stress could not be placed on the importance of the dairy cow in the problem of feeding the starving people of Europe. The subject of Dean Davenport's address before the convention was "Conditions Ahead of Dairymen in the Reconstruction Period."

Must Recoup Herds of Europe. "A great call has come to us to recoup the herds of Europe," said Dean Davenport. "In France there remains but one cow to each family, for they were very judicious in not cutting down their herds entirely for use as food, but trimmed them down as forced necessity, still making a valiant effort to keep from sacrificing their herds altogether."

"Herbert Hoover who handled the food question of the United States and the Allies so wonderfully well during the war and who is still in charge of this, declares that the United States will have to ship twenty million tons of food stuffs to Europe during the year 1919, and of this a very large proportion must be dairy products."

Dean Davenport then proceeded to outline some of the markets of Europe before the dairymen of this country, pointing out that the countries which have come out of the war with a government and with credit will be able to pay for their imports, but that the American people might as well face the fact that they will be called upon to provide food for Turkey, Armenia, Syria and even Russia, and pay for it with their own subscriptions to the relief funds for these countries.

Charles L. Hill of Roseland, Wis., a dairymen with a national reputation, gave an excellent talk on "Dairy Breeds for the Dairymen."

"Feeding to Get the Best Results" was the subject handled in a convincing and instructive way by Charles Foss of Cedarville and H. J. Credgett of Freeport gave a talk on "Our Markets After Peace is Settled."

Talk on Cow Testing. One of the most interesting meetings of the session held Tuesday was the talk on "Cow Testing for Herd Improvement" given by E. M. Clark of the University of Illinois.

Mr. Clark endorsed the cow testing associations organized throughout the state, and urged more and greater organizations of the same kind, outlining the benefits received by the dairymen from the actual herd records made for him by the tester and also from the advice which the competent tester required by the association is enabled to give.

J. P. Mason of Elgin, president of the State Dairymen's association, stated that dairy cattle are of benefit to the finest agricultural sections of the state as well as to the poorest sections in point of land value.

The night session which was featured by an illustrated lecture on "Agriculture in the Island of Wisconsin" by Charles L. Hill of Wisconsin was well attended. The annual election of officers of the Illinois Butter Manufacturers' association was held at the evening meeting.

The Dairy Extension Department of the University of Illinois has an exceptionally interesting exhibit of dairy products at the Chamber of Commerce and there is also an exhibit of dairy cattle in connection with the convention.

COL. PALMER IS GIVEN HONORS

Army Officer Known Here Decorated by Gen. Pershing For Services Overseas.

Col. John M. Palmer, according to a statement in the Illinois State Journal, was one of the U. S. army officers decorated by Gen. Pershing. Col. Palmer, who was a son of the late Gov. John M. Palmer, has been a frequent visitor in Jacksonville. His wife was Miss Maude Laning of Petersburg and she is a niece of T. P. Laning of this city.

For a number of years Col. Palmer has been in the army service and went with Gen. Pershing overseas as a representative of the general staff. He was in the U. S. army last summer but returned to France before the close of the war. He was in charge of a brigade and was in the front line fighting for three weeks before the signing of the armistice. It was because of his services at that time that he was so signally honored thru Gen. Pershing's recognition.

The war is over but the Red Cross goes on forever.

RED CROSS SHIPMENT

The Red Cross yesterday shipped a box of 320 comfort kits. The quota was assigned several months ago but was not completed because of local health conditions. Two hundred of the kits are for Italian army and the others for American soldiers.

The hospital garments committee has announced that it has a quota of 1200 handkerchiefs ready for distribution. These handkerchiefs are to be hemmed and to be given out to individuals or clubs in lots of 10 or more. This is machine work and it is expected that the allotment will be quickly distributed.

MRS. THOMAS INDICTED

A number of Jacksonville people remember David Thomas, a horse buyer resident in Canton who frequently came to Jacksonville to do business. Several weeks ago he was shot and killed by his wife, Mrs. Zealots Thomas. She was recently indicted for the slaying of her husband and will stand trial in an early term of court. She is the eighth woman in Fulton county to face a murder charge.

HARMON FUNERAL AT BLUFFS TUESDAY

Services in Memory of Harvey Harmon Held at Family Residence in Charge of Rev. P. A. Sorensen—Mrs. W. B. Gamble Remained to Jacksonville Hospital.

Bluffs, Jan. 22.—The funeral of Harvey Harmon, who died at his home late Saturday night after a few days illness of pneumonia was held at the family residence at 2 o'clock Tuesday, the Rev. P. A. Sorensen having charge of the service. Services were also held at the Green cemetery where a large crowd had gathered to pay their last respects to a dear departed friend.

Harvey Harmon, aged 31 years, 8 months and 26 days, came to Bluffs from the vicinity of Petersburg about ten years ago and was employed as brakeman for the Wabash railroad. His pleasant manner and courteous treatment toward his fellow men won for him a host of ardent friends. Until stricken a few days ago he was considered the strongest and physically the best man on this branch of the Wabash and his untimely death was a shock to the entire community.

Besides his widow he is survived by his aged father, who resided with him, and two small children. One son, Harvey, Jr., aged 4 years, preceded him in death 2 years ago. Mrs. W. B. Gamble was taken to Our Savior's hospital in Jacksonville Friday for treatment. She has been ill since November and her physician decided that she might be benefited by treatment there.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as candidate for county commissioner, subject to the Republican primary election.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Edward Berry was born in Montreal, Canada, July 25th, 1864, died at her late home in Exeter, Jan. 15th, 1919. She was united in marriage to Edward Berry of Exeter, July 14, 1885 at the Church of Our Savior in Jacksonville. To this union were born five children, eldest dying at birth; Roy, who is in France; Mrs. Lloyd Yeck of Arenzville, France at home, and George, who is also in France.

Besides four children to mourn her loss, she leaves her husband, one sister, Miss Anastasia Reilly, two brothers James and Edward Reilly of Jacksonville, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Berry was a woman who lived a very quiet home life, her first thought always for her family and duty at home. She was a good neighbor and ever ready to do all she could to help a person in need or in distress.

But for the past three years her declining health forbade anything but a very quiet life, but, was not down until the past four months. She was ever brave, cheerful and so patient, never complaining thru it all. The saddest part of her affliction was that both her boys had to go to France. She looked forward to their return and was so hopeful until the last watching the papers closely since the signing of the armistice hoping that one or both of them would get home. But her crown will be all the brighter, for she gave two sons for our country, liberty and freedom.

"My Country! 'Tis of Thee, Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing: Land where my fathers died!
Land of the pilgrims' pride! From every mountain side let freedom ring!"

We know Mrs. Berry truly lived the sentiment of this beautiful and well known hymn. May God give peace and comfort to those especially who have suffered as at the hands of this terrible war and that the price of peace may yet reign.

Her funeral was held at her late home Friday afternoon Jan. 17, 1919, Rev. Father Sloan of Jacksonville officiating. Interment was in Exeter cemetery. The many beautiful flowers were cared for by Mrs. Carl Bean, Mrs. Norman Taylor, Mrs. Myron Hierman and Miss Betty Hoagland. The bearers were Edward H. Funk, Thomas Brown, Elmer F. Walker, Frank Ratigan, Thomas Whitlock and Emmanuel Six.

OBITUARY.

Rose Mae Hough, daughter of John B. and Melissa Hough, was born Dec. 8, 1891 and departed this life at six o'clock a. m. Jan. 17, 1919.

She was united in marriage to Oliver Wilson April 2, 1911 and to this union were born three children, Mary Velona, Thomas Clark and little Opal Augusta. As she lay suffering from the diseases influenza and pneumonia, she was made to understand that the time was at hand when she must lay down the cares of this life and enter into the great unknown. And resting that she had not made peace with God she raised her eyes to heaven, her prayers went up to God for the forgiveness of her sins. And He who doeth all things well liberated her soul and she could say, "Now I am ready to go." And while the family and the entire neighborhood mourn her loss, yet the earthly loss is her eternal gain. And we can say, as one of old, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord. From henceforth ye saith the Spirit that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three children, her mother, two sisters, Mary, wife of Norris Bracewell, and one brother, James Hough, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the home in Nortonville by Rev. Roy March at eleven o'clock Sunday and interment was made in the Young Blood cemetery. The many beautiful flowers were cared for by Lottie Story, Blanche Edwards, Veda Steele and Frona Miller. The pall bearers were Frank Story, Vern Grider, James Daugherty, Fred Nicol, Glen Steele and John Kelly. Suitable music was furnished by Mrs. Walter Whitlock, Marie and Ethel Fuqua, Elmer Jones and John Miller.

Our Father from His throne in Glory
Looked down upon this world of care.
In a little home a Mother
He saw fit to call up there.

Oh how she was loved and cherished,
In this world of sin and strife;
Jesus says there's none forsaken
So He called this darling wife.

We are thankful for his children
Who ministered to her cries.
Who knelt in prayer with her
And pointed her to the skies.

The Savior kindly sowed her,
That from her loved ones she must part.
And to live with Him in glory
She must have a change of heart.

On the anguish of that moment
When she saw her awful fate,
She at once turned to her Savior
Before it was too late.

How her face beamed with glory
How she smiled on every one
Showing in her happy countenance,
Her answer: Thy will be done.

He took her to her home in Heaven
There with her father and the blest,
She is waiting for her loved ones
To share in that peaceful rest.

One word to the dear bereaved ones,
Any time and any where,
Just give your load to Jesus
How he loves to answer prayer.

Grow Wheat in Western Canada One Crop Often Pays for the Land

Western Canada offers the greatest advantages to home seekers. Large profits are assured. You can buy on easy payment terms. Fertile Land at $15 to $30 per Acre—land similar to that which through many years has averaged from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of cases are on record where in Western Canada a single crop has paid the cost of land and production. The Government of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising. Though Western Canada offers land at such low figures, the high prices of grain, cattle, sheep and hogs will remain. Loans for the purchase of stock may be had at low interest; there are good shipping facilities; best of markets; free schools; churches; splendid climate; low taxation (none on improvements). For particulars as to location of lands for sale, maps, illustrated literature, reduced railway rates, etc., apply to Supt. of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or C. J. Broughton, 112 W. ### HUMMER MANURE SPREADER

And, of all the manure spreaders on the market the Hummer has no equal. Why? The main frame which is the foundation is entirely of high carbon channel steel—no wood to rot out as in nearly every other make. All working parts mounted on this steel frame, which assures you of proper alignment of these parts, which in turn insures light draft. Heavy channel steel cross members are securely bolted to the side sills with steel brackets, under which is a heavy truss rod. Two brace rods extend diagonally across the frame connecting the side sills, thus eliminating any chance of a twisting frame and thereby throw the working parts out of alignment. The front end is rigidly braced and connected to the channel steel sides by a heavy cross member and trussed together with a heavy reinforced corner bracket.

We claim perfection in construction for the Hummer. For convenience of the operator it is low down—easy to load. The arch of the front end allows you to turn short and can be turned easily in its own length. The channel steel sills are bent upward at front end and connected to a heavy steel cross member. Fifth wheel extra large in diameter and equipped with hard oil cup.

The track of both rear and front wheels is such that you can successfully top-dress small growing corn. Top-dressing of any crop has proven most valuable. A light sprinkle of manure on your wheat, and also, your meadow, will pay big interest on the investment.

AGED WOMAN IS AUNT OF H. E. FRYE

Is Over 100 Years Old and Has Lived Thru Four Wars—Lives With a Niece Near Fishersville, Va.

H. E. Frye of this city has received a clipping telling of his aged aunt Mrs. Reed who resides with a niece near Fishersville, Va. Mrs. Reed is a sister of Mr. Frye's mother who was the youngest of the family and died in 1898 at the age of 71 years. Mrs. Reed who is known to be 100 years of age says she is 114 years old and offers many things to prove her assertion. However, there are no authentic records, but she probably is the oldest or one of the oldest residents in the state of Virginia.

She was a grown woman when the United States sent the army to Mexico. She saw the great conflict between the north and the south and saw the boys leave Augusta in the Spanish-American war and has kept in close touch with the events in the great world war just closed.

Mrs. Reed was widely known as a carpet weaver and her carpets were famous throughout that section as the kind "that stay with you." She is an old landmark in the Fishersville neighborhood and takes an active interest in all current events.

Last summer Mrs. Reed put in and took care of a garden and is otherwise active. Mr. Frye visited her a year ago and said that she was able to read without glasses and was remarkably well preserved one of her age.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR ELMER PLANK

Occasion Was 49th Birthday—Other Concord News Notes.

Concord, Jan. 22.—A surprise was given Elmer P. Plank on Saturday night when a number of his neighbors dropped in to help him celebrate his 49th birthday. Oysters and cake were served as refreshments. Those present were J. E. Whorton, Mrs. Ethelyn Plank and family, Sam Brockhouse and family, Andrew Wheeler and family, Miss Elva Wheeler and Alpha Nergenh. A very enjoyable time was had, and Mr. Plank looked young for his age as he received the good wishes of his neighbors.

Walter Brockhouse returned early Monday from a camp in Ohio where he has been in military service a number of months while there for being a crack shot. Quite a little excitement was created near Pleasant View school on Friday about noon when a red fox came from the west and ran near A. J. Wheeler's house. Mrs. Wheeler saw it first and called the neighbors by telephone. The animal was pursued by John Bueining's hounds but was never overtaken.

Mrs. Sam Brockhouse was called to Jacksonville Saturday night by the illness of her aged mother, Mrs. Cox. Grandma Cox was better again by Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew Wheeler went to Jacksonville on Monday on business.

Orville Dickius returned Sunday on train 48 from Camp Grant. He went from a camp in the south to Camp Grant and from there home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Taylor of near Bluffs were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Drake.

Minister C. G. Cantrell was in Springfield two days last week. He went up to help celebrate after the legislature passed the amendment. Sunday night he preached on "going over the top" at Springfield.

Arthur Brockhouse and family have down with the flu. Mrs. Wedeking, a practical nurse of Arenzville and Mrs. Wessler, a sister of Mrs. Brockhouse are in attendance. As we go to press this Monday afternoon they are all reported better. R. E. Fox and family have all been down but are about well. The doctors have been run nearly night and day by the hundreds of calls.

Camp Grant, Ill.

Thursday, Jan. 16th.

Dear Dad:

Just a few lines to let you know I am all O. K. The weather is fine for this time of the year and the snow is most all gone. I have been pretty busy doing a little of everything. Hauled mess supplies today and also helped clean up another barracks for our company to move into tomorrow. There are only about 100 men left in our company now. They have been discharging a few every day for a while. Earl Hempel is on the list to go tomorrow. I don't know when my turn will come. I may get loose most any day and I may stay till Feb. 15. They discharged a bunch of students yesterday. Some got their commissions and discharges and some were transferred to the 14th Infantry. About 80 will graduate on Feb. 15th. When they finish the company will be discharged except a few enlisted men who will be transferred to some other company. The men from France and from other camps are coming and going every day by the train loads. There were five train loads came in one day. They have been putting on some good movies down at the Y. M. C. A. and K. C. hall every night and I have been taking in some of them. Last night they had a good western show. I think I will go to the Y. M. C. A. tonight. One night a bunch of girls from Rockford came out and sang for us. They sang some of the latest war songs and some gave several readings. Tuesday I was out on a Ford truck hauling mess supplies. The steering gear broke and the bloomin' thing ran into a pile of ice and saw dust. We had to telephone for another truck. We can talk things out when I get down there better than I can write. Tell Leland I got his letter. Tell George I will answer soon. Tell Aunt I got her letter too and will answer. Well I must quit now. Write when you can.
